

Explore the Great Outdoors

Teacher Workshop

Would you like to explore Red Rock Canyon National Conservation Area with your students? Get your students moving outdoors and explore the wonderful world of nature.

Exploring the Great Outdoors will provide content on: cultural aspects of Red Rock Canyon National Conservation Area, the different life zones in the area, overview of geology, the water cycle as it pertains to the Las Vegas area and the Spring Mountain Range.

Let's explore a short trail in the Conservation Area. The participants will become familiar with procedures of scheduling field trips to the Red Rock Canyon area. At the end of this course, participants will be able to identify available resources, web-based, literature, and hands-on materials available to enhance field trip experiences.

This workshop is required for those who want to bring students out to explore a trail in Red Rock Canyon on your own.

Participants will be in the field during a portion of this course. Dress appropriately for weather conditions and be prepared to be outside, bring water and a lunch. There is no food available for purchase on site.
